Intrepid Investigations Acquires Tactic Investigation Services Ltd.

Toronto, ON August 13, 2025 – Intrepid Investigations is proud to announce the acquisition of Tactic Investigations, our second this year. This expansion reflects our continued momentum and commitment to supporting clients with increased regional expertise and responsive, localized service in key regions.

With a solid national foundation already in place and consistent service delivery from coast to coast, this acquisition expands our presence in Southwestern Ontario—strengthening our footprint in Windsor, Chatham, Sarnia, and London, where demand continues to grow.

Tactic Investigation Services Ltd. is owned and led by Romeo Mancini, who brings over 30 years of trusted experience. His longstanding commitment to client service and investigative excellence aligns closely with Intrepid’s values. Romeo will remain actively involved as part of the Intrepid team, ensuring a seamless transition and continuity in business relationships. He will continue to support and build upon the strong partnerships he has cultivated over the past three decades.

Keith D’Souza, President & CEO of Intrepid, said: “We are pleased to welcome Romeo and the Tactic team to the Intrepid family, and to Tactic’s clients, we look forward to supporting you and your needs.”

This milestone marks another step forward in our strategic growth, bringing added resources, deeper expertise, and a stronger national network. Most importantly, it reinforces our unwavering focus on what matters most: empowering clients with results they can rely on. We thank our clients, partners, and team for their continued trust as we grow with purpose and confidence.
